Adjustment Bureau – Play Sheet

1. What in your view does the adjustment bureau symbolize? They work hard to make adjustments in thinking to insure the plan unfolds and avoid what they call 'inflection points' which are deviations that even their adjustments cannot correct.
2. One adjustment bureau agent, Harry, appear to 'break rank' and seems to assist David Norris, the main character David Norris, deviate from the plan.
3. The adjustment bureau seems to acknowledge 'chance' as a real possibility. What is your view of fate/script vs chance ? How does that relate to non-dual teachings?
4. What aspect or part of the movie stuck out to you most, and why?
5. Later in the movie it is revealed by Thompson that David and Elise being together has a damaging effect upon both his and her careers in the long run, and they won't be able to be what they were supposed to be in the world. What does this stir within you ?
6. Harry said at the end 'Everything is a test, even for us' (referring to the members of the adjustment bureau) what does that symbolize to you ?
7. Harry always said one day 'we won't write the plan, you will'. What does this symbolize in your view ?
