1. Overview

Tabor seeks to encourage quality teaching, continuous scholarship, innovative research, and community engagement amongst its academic staff. The College also recognises the need for staff to find a suitable and healthy work/life balance.

2. Scope and Applications

This policy will be used by the Deans of Faculty in negotiating appropriate academic responsibilities with academic staff and by the college administration in assigning teaching resources to a Faculty.

3. Policy Principles

3.1. This policy must:

3.1.1. Comply with relevant Commonwealth and State legislation, regulations and guidelines

3.1.2. Comply with the agreed EA

3.1.3. Provide sufficient direction to Deans of Faculty to allow:

3.1.3.1. An equitable distribution of academic responsibilities

3.1.3.2. A realistic assessment of the amount of academic resources required within a Faculty

4. Procedures

4.1. Hours of Employment

4.1.1. An Academic staff member is employed for 48 working weeks with an average of 37.5 hours per week. (1800 hours)

4.1.2. It is not uncommon that during the weeks of actual lecturing and the subsequent grading period that a lecturer will need to work more than 75 hours in any single fortnight period. This should be accounted for by a lesser expectation of actual work hours during the non-lecturing period. See EA for detailed information.

4.2. Workload tasks and nominated work hours

- 4.2.1. Workload is divided between teaching, scholarship, research, community engagement, and college/faculty/administrative tasks.
- 4.2.2. See Academic Workload Calculator for the currently agreed estimates of hours per task.
- 4.2.3. Teaching staff must be accessible for students seeking individual assistance with their studies, at a level consistent with the learning needs of the student cohort.
- 4.2.4. Teaching staff are provided an allocation of at least 10% (and up to 20%) of their workload to engage in scholarship / research activities.

5. Definitions

See Global Definitions

6. Communication and Training

- 6.1. Training in this policy and any subsequent amendments to the policy will be provided by the President to the Board of Governors and the members of the Senior Executive and published in the Tabor Policy Repository.
